

GALA LUNCHEON GIVEN PRESIDENT WILSON IN PARIS

Supreme Council Considers Russian Situation

PARIS, Jan. 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—The two notable events of the day were the meeting of the supreme council to consider the Russian situation and the gala luncheon to President Wilson at Luxembourg Palace.

The luncheon, besides bringing together a brilliant assemblage also brought out the declaration from President Wilson that "the peril of France, if it continues will be the peril of the world, and not only France must organize against the peril but the world must organize against it."

The meeting of the supreme council was attended by President Wilson, Secretary Lansing and representatives of the other four great powers. An hour was given over to hearing M. Noulens, the French ambassador who had just returned from Russia where he personally witnessed the various changes which have been taking place in the government and conditions there. What he told the council was not disclosed but an authorized statement from M. Noulens sums up his views thus:

Discuss Russian Problem

"The Bolshevik power is the enemy of the entente. It is responsible for the Russian defection from the entente. It furnished Germany with food during the war. It protested against the terms of the German armistice. These acts show uncompromising attitude of hostility against the entente. Tyranny and terror which are increasing daily should place the bloody chiefs at Moscow and Petrograd outside the pale of humanity. No society of nations could deal with such a regime, which constitutes today the most serious obstacle to a general peace. Until the regime falls a development which I hope the allies will seek to bring about, Europe will continue to be exposed to the severest risks of agitation and war."

M. Noulens will be followed tomorrow by the Danish minister, A. Schavenius who will speak along the same lines.

The luncheon to President Wilson was one of the most elaborate functions thus far held, with 300 guests at the table, including two presidents and many premiers and public leaders in the sumptuous setting of one of the finest of the old world palaces. Throne room of the Bourbon kings was used for the first time since a hundred years ago, Napoleon banqueting his generals returning from battle. The republican guard in white uniforms and gleaming helmets lined the marble stair case as President Wilson ascended. The menu was a beautifully engraved work of art, bearing President Wilson's portrait on the cover.

President Wilson's speech was warmly applauded, and as he closed the band of the republican guard took up the inspiring strains of the Marseillaise with the voice of a tenor from the oper joining in the refrain. The president was so impressed with the demonstration that he wrote a hurried note on his card and sent it to the singer.

The guests then withdrew for coffee in the salon Victor Hugo, where two brilliant groups formed one with Marshal Foch in the center and the other with President Wilson the premiers and foreign delegates crowding around.

The two presidents again received military honors when they departed. President Wilson wound up a busy day by going to Hotel de Crillon at 5 o'clock where he held a conference with the American delegates.

French Papers Discuss Status of Former Emperor

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Jan. 20.—Long discussions concerning the responsibility of former Emperor William and other prominent Germans for crimes committed in the prosecution of the war appear in the newspapers. The Matin says that as regards the crimes committed against France, the facts already have been established by a careful inquiry which has virtually been completed. It says that several eminent jurists unanimously hold that William Hohenzollern can be prosecuted under Article 56 of the Hague convention which lays down rules for warfare on land.

The jurists are of the opinion that the punishment must be inflicted on those who issued the orders rather than on the subordinates who carried them out. The Journal calls attention to the fact that there is available for the peace conference a committee on judicial consultations to which the opinions of the delegates regarding the responsibility of William Hohenzollern probably will be referred. This committee could then present plans for a formal inquiry to the conference, which if it agrees with the committee can issue a formal indictment.

To obtain the release of the former emperor, the paper adds, a demand can be made on Holland by the nations about to form a league of nations. The demand will not be for the extradition of the former emperor but for his surrender. The paper says it is the opinion of leading jurists that Holland, which will also form a part of the league, cannot evade the duty of surrendering the former emperor to the other nations in the league in order that he may be brought up for trial.

STRENGTH OF THE BOLSHIEV HAS WEAKENED

According to Latest Authentic Information from Russia

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Jan. 20.—Authentic information received here concerning recent developments in Russia indicates that the strength and prestige of the Bolshevik government at home has weakened somewhat in the last few months, altho Premier Lenin and his associates have succeeded in strengthening their armies and gaining considerable military success in Western Russia. Premier Lenin in reported to have proposed to the executive committee of the Soviet congress that the Bolshevik surrender. Trotsky, Karl Radek and Foreign Minister Tchitcherin opposed the proposal vigorously. Lenin's proposal was defeated by a majority of only 12 votes out of 200 cast.

The prospect of foreign intervention, it is said, has brought to the Bolshevik support from certain elements which dislike intervention as such and who fear that intervention might result in a counter revolution and the restoration of the monarchy. The Bolshevik army is estimated to number 300,000 men. It is said to be well equipped and under complete control of its leaders.

The withdrawal of the Germans is aided by the military progress of the Bolsheviks in the west, where they are making their greatest efforts. Bolshevik vanguards are operating without serious military opposition and are reported to be within 150 miles of Warsaw. They have overrun considerable parts of Lithuanian and the Baltic provinces. This concentration in the west has resulted in some serious revolts on other fronts, notably the capture of Perm by Serbian troops and the defeat of the Bolsheviks at Archangel and on the south and eastern fronts.

An expedition of 20,000 allied and Russian troops has been unable to establish contact with 70,000 Czech-Slovaks on the Perm-Ufa front altho the respective successes on the Ufa and Perm fronts promise to lighten this problem. In addition to the Perm and Ufa armies there are also anti-Bolshevik forces in the Omsk region of Siberia and in the Kuban region while small allied forces are stationed at Baku, Odessa and Sevastopol. Representatives of the various Russian governments with the exception of the Bolsheviks are now at Paris or on their way here to advocate their claims before the peace conference. Sergius Saksanoff, the former foreign minister in the old regime now representing the Kuban army, and General M. Tchchaikovsky, president of the northern republic, ex-Premier Lvoff and Boris Bakmeteff and other ambassadors of the Kerensky government are among the prominent emissaries to the conference. But thus far no Russian government has been recognized.

Three proposals to be made before the conference regarding the Russian policy. The first advocates vigorous intervention and the overthrow of the Bolsheviks. The second advocates, but every other means that the dispatch of troops assistance to the elements in Russia fighting for democracy and order against the Bolsheviks with the object of contributing to the restoration of normal conditions in the peripheral regions of Russia and to encourage the populations of the central regions still under Bolshevik domination to an effort to obtain similar conditions. The third advocates the cessation of opposition to the Bolshevik government and the withdrawal of the troops of the associated powers and an attempt to reach a working agreement to assist Russia out of her troubles, the former recognition of the Bolsheviks is not held to be necessary.

Under the third proposal the associated powers would attempt to supply Russia with food and other urgent necessities and assist in the reorganization of transportation industry and commerce providing the Bolsheviks would guarantee to discontinue their attacks on their neighbors, refrain from molesting allied sympathizers and cease terrorism.

Under the resolution, Chairman of the appropriations, finance, foreign relations and other important committees would not be eligible for membership of any other committee.

Shortage Of Labor Taken From Jail And Year Predicted Burned At Stake

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—A continued labor shortage, with resultant high wages for at least another year was forecast today at a conference between seventy-five men representing the various railroads centering in Chicago and government and state employment officials.

Charles J. Boyd, general superintendent of the Illinois Free Employment offices warned the railroad men they were going to find it difficult to get in competition with other industrial demands and advised them it would be unwise to advocate a reduction of wages.

He said there was a greater shortage of unskilled labor than of skilled and quoted figures showing that in 1918 the immigration of laborers amounted to only 110,000 compared with 1,040,000 in 1910.

Samuel Freund, director of the clearance division of the United States employment service at Washington, D. C., declared that the relief expected to follow the signing of the armistice had not materialized.

President Beard of the Chicago & Alton and Robert Ford suggested that the railroads might consent to ask the government for permission to import 125,000 unskilled laborers from Mexico and Porto Rico to supply the demand this summer. They doubted the ability of the government employment offices to meet the demand upon it for railroad laborers.

Railroad officials estimated that there would be a shortage of 2,000,000 workmen needed for railroads.

"There is practically no labor immigration and the young men returning from army service will not take this class of work," said Robert Ford.

SENATE SPENDS DAY DEBATING RELIEF MEASURE

Hope to Pass Bill Before Adjournment Today

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Debate of the administration bill appropriating $100,000,000 for food relief in Europe and the near east covered a wide range in the senate today and again prevented final vote of the measure. Passage of the bill is conceded by both advocates and opponents and Democratic leaders were hopeful tonight this would be accomplished before adjournment tomorrow.

Attack on the bill and the administration of the relief fund by Herbert C. Hoover, was led by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania. Sherman while Senators Martin of Virginia, the Democratic leader and Lewis of Illinois the Democratic whip were the principal speakers in support of it. Senator Penrose said Mr. Hoover had insulted every Republican citizen by advising the American people to support the Democratic party in the last congressional campaign and he would offer an amendment to the bill requiring that the fund be administered by a commission named by the president "with the advice and consent of the senate."

Penrose's Offer Amended. The Pennsylvania senator offered an amendment requiring that the relief fund be used to purchase supplies in the United States.

Senator Martin criticized this proposal "as profiteering stipulation on a charitable fund," and Mr. Penrose finally modified it; read that wheat to be given free to the people of Europe should be purchased in this country as far as possible. The amendment then was adopted. Another amendment offered by Senator Ashurst of Arizona, Democrat would give every soldier, sailor and marine a bonus of six months pay and his uniform upon discharge, but his consideration was deferred. Senator Lewis, urged passage of the bill as necessary to sustain President Wilson in his work at the peace conference. Defeat of the measure he declared would "disgrace the president and embarrass him in his future negotiations at Paris. He also charged that Senators who are prejudiced against Mr. Hoover were injecting questions foreign to the bill and thus complicating its passage. In the course of his discussion of Mr. Hoover, Senator Penrose called attention to reports that the department of agriculture is drawing a bill appropriating $1,250,000,000 which is requiring congress to appropriate for food purchases disclosed today that they had allowed for a 10 per cent increase in the year beginning next July.

"When the food administration ceases to function, and all its restrictions are removed, prices will go sky high," declared Lieut. Col. Adams of the quartermaster general's department. The military committee hearings on the appropriation bill.

"An army ration—food for one man for one day—now costs the government 48 cents. Col. Adams said appropriations had been asked on a basis of 53 cents.

British Plan Of Peace League Made Public

PARIS, Jan. 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey cannot be admitted to the league of nations at the present time, but they should be allowed to join as soon as the league is satisfied that they are entitled to be ranked among the trustworthy nations of the world.

This is the opinion expressed by Lord Robert Cecil, who has just turned over to the printer the British plan for the league of nations which will be submitted to the peace congress.

Lord Robert made this statement to The Associated Press tonight:

"The league should be all-embracing—for all trustworthy nations, since it is for the good of humanity. I am asked for a definition of 'trustworthy.' Lord Robert replied that in the case of Germany one criterion would be in the establishment of a government free from military dominance. This would be a guarantee of trustworthiness. It was obvious, he pointed out, that Germany could not be admitted until she had brought order out of the present chaos and the complexion of the new government was seen.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP SHARPLY CRITICISED

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Sharp criticism of government ownership of railroads was voiced here tonight at a meeting of the national canners' association and allied associations by United States Senator B. M. Fernald of Maine, a former president of the National Canners' association.

"Since the government took control of the railroads, freight rates have advanced 40 per cent; passenger rates 50 per cent; and the poorest service ever experienced has been given to the people of this country," said Senator Fernald.

The bill is designed he said to relieve parents from repaying the allowances in such cases.

In a neighboring city the Presbyterians, Methodists and Evangelical churches have consolidated their Sunday schools. This may have been for the purpose of gaining the enthusiasm which comes from larger numbers, or possibly the school managers were patterning after the proposed league of nations. At any rate, the merger shows a good spirit.

The records show that during the past two years there have been more than 500 murders in Chicago and that there have been but two executions as a result.

suit of this crime. This record has caused someone to say that it is not necessary to waste much time in discussing a law for the abolition of capital punishment in this state. It seems to have been almost abolished without legislative act.

The lessons of conservation and frugality which the scarcity of foodstuffs taught during the war time are fast passing. In all effort to retain some of those good principles, the experimental community kitchens established in St. Louis by the food administration are to be continued by an association organized and incorporated for that purpose. The endeavor to preserve the lessons of thrift is well worth while and if the employment problem continues to grow there will be an additional need in the larger cities for teaching economy in family living.

The fact that some building materials are being reduced in price will do more toward encouraging a building program than all the letters from Washington urging activity in this line as a reconstruction need. Boiler manufacturers have recently made reductions which amount to 25 per cent. Some other price cutting of materials entering into structural work, have already been made, and it is these things that give the real encouragement for the building program.

GIFTS TO THE NATION.

It is said that President and Mrs. Wilson during their stay abroad have received nearly a freight car load of gifts. Some of them are very costly and others have their value for sentimental reasons. The criticism about all the money being spent on the president and his wife by the French nation, when funds are being raised here for the support of orphan children in France, is not well founded.

Most of these gifts, if never presented, would in no way go to relieve suffering or distress in Europe. The president rightly recognizes that the gifts are not being made to him personally but as a representative of the U. S., and most of his tokens will be placed in the White House. The French people have the right to give this expression of their friendship and love for the U. S.

UNIFORM MARRIAGE LAWS.

Gary is trying to set a record for hasty marriages and the pastors of that city have set aside a Sunday for the discussion of the need of remedial legislation for the state's marriage laws. It is a well known fact that the laws of that state do encourage hasty marriages and the courts show that many "repent" at leisure. This Indiana situation brings to mind that what is needed in the U. S. is a uniform marriage law. There is certainly neither sense nor reason in having the law requirements of the different states on this subject at variance. These differences often make court action and decrees seem ridiculous and lessen respect for law.

AN APPEAL TO PATRIOTISM.

In the next Liberty Loan drive, which is coming in April, great emphasis is being placed upon the statement that it will be the last under the auspices of the Liberty Loan organization. Officials recognize that it is going to be more difficult to sell bonds of this loan because the war is over and "now now are paying for it" and so the terms will be liberal. An appeal will be made, as indicated, that this will be the last opportunity citizens have for helping out with the war cause and patriotism demands their support.

Possibly some of the enthusiasm of earlier loan campaigns will be lacking but the bonds will be sold just the same.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Getting Normal.
The war is done, and we get back to peace time's old accustomed track. We're sitting up and taking note of things that lately seemed remote. Once more I hear the auto fan explain as loudly as he can how he went up huge hills on high, and didn't have his motor die. His spiel seems relevant and sane, which would have been in wartime vain. Once more the dimes, when cooped indoors, are talking of the dry gods stories and of the lovely lads they've seen, all decked with doodads red and green. And they allude to Mrs. Brown, who's bought the smoothest coat in town, while her poor husband strives to make his stand off something less a fake. And once again the ill health bores describe their ailments and their sores. A little time, while battles raged, their chronic sorrows were not staggled, but now they've all come back again, to rasp the ears of patient men. I see the old ways coming back, and as of old, the gossip clack; the private quarrels we forgot, we're resurrecting, smoking hot; the statesmen spriz their oily smiles, and hand out bunk in forty styles. I wonder if we'll ever sigh for good old wartime days gone by, when there were themes of which to speak, and keep on speaking for a week?

PAID HONORS TO THEIR HEROIC DEAD

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HELD MEMORIAL SERVICE

Ritualistic Form Followed Very Impressive. Addresses Included Words of Praise for the Fallen—Roll of Honor Shows Six Names.

Werner J. Bergschneider.
Charles J. Devlin.
Joseph Dowling.
Lee Flynn.
William Hanning.
William J. Haugh.

In the lines above are the names of six members of Jacksonville Council No. 568 of the Knights of Columbus who have laid down their lives on their country's altar. In special memory of these fallen heroes an impressive service was held Sunday night at K. C. hall on East State street. A large audience gathered for the memorial.

Addresses were made by Rev. F. F. Formaz, Rev. W. T. Sloan and John M. Butler. In the opening and closing services Thomas Duffner, grand knight, officiated. There were two solos especially appropriate to such an occasion, and given with fine effect. Mrs. Robert E. Keating, with Miss Ruth Duncan, as accompanist, sang Souza's "In Flanders Fields" and Albert F. Strasser, with Mrs. Keating as accompanist, had for his solo, "The Man of Sorrow" by Joseph H. Adams. At the base of the platform where the speakers sat was a wreath of galax leaves and beside it a cross gave index to the purpose of the program.

Have Fought the Good Fight. Fr. Sloan as chairman opened the meeting with roll call of officers to the names of which Grand Knight after a brief pause responded "present." The names of the six departed brothers were then called to which the Grand Knight after a brief pause responded "absent."

Sloan then said in part: "Worthy friends and Brother Knights: You have heard called the names six of our esteemed and valued brothers. Vainly have we waited to hear their answer. Another has responded 'absent' absent! tis the echo of death. The angel of death has called them from our midst, called them to their Heavenly Father."

In sorrow and in sadness we have gathered to pay a last tribute of honor and love to our departed brothers' memory. Yet why in sorrow and sadness? Why should we wish our departed brothers who have won the crowns of undying glory in the service of their country and their God to remain in this valley of tears to continue the trials, the struggles, the hardships and the pain which for the most part make up the warfare of life for every true soldier and valiant knight who accepts the invitation of him who said "Take up your cross and follow me."

We were created not for earth but for Heaven. We are pilgrims here below, journeying onward ever onward to our true home, our lasting country beyond the skies. Why should we be filled with grief and sorrow when a friend, a brother, a dearly loved one, preceded us, passing thru the portal of death thru which each and every one of us must pass to enter the mansions of glory in the land of bliss where we will be inseparably united with our loved ones who have gone before? Why only that we are selfish: Ours is the loss, theirs the gain.

The Palm of Victory.

With what confidence, nay with what rejoicing the true knight, the faithful child of mother church who has fought the valiant fight, may pass away. He goes to receive his reward, the palm of victory, of life everlasting, the crowns of happiness eternal. Well may we exclaim with the apostle: Oh, grave, where is thy victory. Oh, death where is thy sting? And if we live up to our principles, death is victory and the grave the threshold of eternal triumph.

True, indeed it is but natural to sorrow at parting, even tho we know it is only for a time. Yet how sweet to us the consolation that in heaven we shall meet and know our own, that in a little while we shall join our departed brothers and they will know and welcome us. For each and all of us shall come that same summons of death and we too shall go to our Eternal Father. Tomorrow it may be our names shall be called and another shall respond "absent."

The speaker closed with the fitting verses from Thanatopsis.

The Triumph of Arms

John M. Butler in his address said in brief: In a live graveyard in France now lie two of our brothers, far from home and friends and native land. They have gone to meet their Maker and white crosses mark the places where they fell upon the field of honor. At home, too, we have felt the hand of death and four of our brothers have made the great sacrifice and have gone to their burial ground, wrapped in the flag they so bravely advanced. So it is in memory of these departed brothers that we meet tonight. In the great struggle that has passed we saw a mighty nation conquered. We saw our ideals accomplished and we saw our army come thru the contest in triumph. We are glad, indeed, to night that the ravishing war is ended but our hearts are heavily laden because our brothers are gone. Tonight we know that there is sorrow in the families of these our friends and our hearts go out to them in sympathy. It is an acknowledged truth that the best things in life are not free for the asking. They must be labored for. They must be bought with some price. So liberty, which by right all men should enjoy, for God so intended it, must be purchased. It has been so since the world began and the liberty we have today came to us thru the sacrifice made by others.

It would be more fitting if some comrade, some partner in the military successes of our departed brothers, were here tonight, to speak. They could say those things which you would be most glad to hear. But I am sure that they could not speak with more of sympathy than I have for relatives and friends tonight. So it was determined that the Knights of Columbus would hold this service to give some public expression in honoring the memory of the deceased and in expressing sympathy for the families.

Service Records

Werner J. Bergschneider of New Berlin became a member of the order at the last general ceremonial session. He enlisted on the 2nd of June in the motor service at Kansas City. Later on he went to Camp Upton, Long Island, and was there taken ill and passed on. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bergschneider.

Charles J. Devlin was born in this city and spent his life here. He entered the army service early in 1918, and in April was sent to Camp Dix. On July 24 he was ordered to France and there on the 17th day of September was killed in action. He leaves a widowed mother and sisters.

Joseph Dowling was born Nov. 4, 1894, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Dowling. He entered the motor service at the Sweeney school in Kansas City and he became ill and succumbed to pneumonia.

Lee Flynn entered Camp Taylor in June, 1918. His training was speeded along and August found him in France. He took part in the historic battle of Verdun and the forest of Argonne and fell in battle in October. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Flynn living west of the city.

William Hanning, son of Thomas and Jane Hanning, entered the service at Camp Taylor June 28. He was subsequently sent to Camp Merritt and was ready for overseas service when a fever attacked him and he died shortly afterward.

William J. Haugh of New Berlin was also received into the order at the last ceremonial. In May, 1918, he was sent to camp in Georgia and then to Camp Sheridan, Ala. He was taken ill there and died Oct. 28. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Haugh.

I have not undertaken to say what each one of these men did. They were like the rest of us, in their actions and ideals. None of them was under 21 years of age and none more than 30 years of age. So in the flower of manhood they were stricken. The best thing that could be said of one is that his duty has been well performed. These, our brothers, were ready to act in the great emergency and reckoned not with the consequences. The other day I saw these lines by Alan Seeger, and they seemed to me especially appropriate for such an occasion.

I have a rendezvous with Death
At some disputed barricade,
When Spring comes back with rustling shade
And apple-blossom fill the air—
I have a rendezvous with Death
When Spring brings back blue days and fair.

It may be that he shall take my hand
And lead me into his dark land
And close my eyes and quench my breath—
It may be I shall pass him still.
I have a rendezvous with Death,
On some scarred slope of battered hill.
When Spring comes round again
this year
And the first meadow flowers appear.

God knows 't were better to be deep
Pillowed in silk and scented down,
Where love throbs out in blissful sleep
Pulse high to pulse, breath to breath,
Where hushed awakenings are
dear
But I have a rendezvous with Death
At midnight in some flaming town,
When Spring trips North again
this year,
And I to my pledged word am
true,
I shall not fail that rendezvous.
The Knights of Columbus feel proud of their record and that banner yonder with its stars shows the reason for our pride.
There are more than 100 names on the honor roll and no other or-

Don't try to save money buying cheap or big-can Baking Powders. You can't do it. You'll throw out more in spoil of bakings than you save on price of the powder. And don't think that old style high priced powders are best because they cost most. They are not.

has proved in millions of baked-day tests that it is the best baking powder ever made—that's why it is the best selling baking powder in the world today. No other baking powder makes such temptingly good—tender & luscious bakings. No baking powder of anywhere near the same quality is sold at such a low price.

You use less of Calumet—because it is the highest grade baking powder. One teaspoonful is equal to two teaspoonfuls of most other brands.

And there is no "luck" about it when you use Calumet. No loss. It is absolutely sure. It is the most economical of all. Millions of housewives use it and do leading domestic science teachers and cooking experts.

PHONE OPERATORS STUDY RATES

School of Instruction Held Here by Illinois Telephone Company—New Rat's Effective Today.

The Illinois Telephone company held a school of instruction yesterday afternoon and evening for the purpose of familiarizing their toll operators with the new rates that go into effect this morning.

All toll operators employed by the company were present and the school was in charge of Mrs. E. J. Huff of Virginia, assisted by Willard W. Holliday, president and general manager of the company.

Mr. Holliday thought it best to have the operators come to this city so that the working of the new tariffs could be thoroughly explained to them as they are very complicated. Mr. Holliday said yesterday that all free service that had heretofore been maintained by the company would be continued.

While in the city the young ladies were guests of the company at a banquet given at the Dunlap Hotel. There were two sessions of the school, one during the afternoon and another at night.

Those present were toll operators and were as follows: Mrs. E. J. Huff, Virginia; Martha Miller, Alexander; Ruth Moody, Chapin; Ruth Hudson and Louise Hudson, Bluffs; Zula Groves, Gladys Hamilton, Manerva Horton, Marie Branom and Emma Walters, Jacksonville; Agnes Nagle, Carrollton; Maude Farmer, Pater-son; Lee Coates, Hillview; Ruth Caffrey, Greenfield; Alice Stone, Wrightsville; Alberta Edwards, Roodhouse; Neva Funk, Manchester; Ethel Culbertson and Edith Culbertson, White Hall; Bessie Spires, Jacksonville.

Rheumatism

Because we eat less fruit, drink less water and take less exercise in winter than in summer, rheumatism is apt to be much more common and aggravated. This is because constipation is then much more common, for it is generally conceded that constipation is the cause of rheumatism.

Constipation causes food-waste to lie in the bowels and ferment, creating poisons which are absorbed into the blood. If the kidneys, lungs and skin pores are overworked and cannot throw these poisons out of the system, they are deposited and rheumatism is the result.

Your druggist has an ideal preparation called SALINOS, which will entirely empty the bowels, including the lower bowel where most poisons are formed. SALINOS is decidedly pleasant, both in taste and action, is fully effective if taken in cold water, and it never gripes.

THE ONE HUNDRED PER CENT PLAN

Business Houses Urged to Make
Early Canvass For Red Cross
Members — Campaign Plans Forming.

The organization for the Red Cross campaign is being rapidly perfected by Dr. G. H. Kopperl, the campaign manager. W. Barr Brown was named as county chairman for the territory outside of Jacksonville and the ward chairmen and members of committees in Jacksonville are soon to be appointed. Dr. Kopperl said last night that one of the most important things in the campaign from a Jacksonville standpoint is for business firms to take an interest in the 100 per cent plan.

Every business house is asked to arrange for the complete enrollment of all its employees. Names and addresses of all these members are to be furnished to the Red Cross organization. Beginning today, office hours will be maintained from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. in Dr. Kopperl's office in the Knollenberg building. Registration should be made there and it is the hope and expectation that before the present week closes every business house in Jacksonville will have been found entitled to the 100 per cent poster when the necessary facts have been transmitted to the Red Cross headquarters.

Reports of all work done will be made to a general meeting of the campaign workers to be held next Monday night. If this preliminary work is thoroughly done it will greatly simplify the campaign proper, which is to open next Monday. The distribution of literature and advertising is in the hands of Boy Scouts under the direction of Scout Master H. A. Walker. A number of volunteer workers are needed in various lines of activity and persons who are willing to assist are asked to enroll their names at the headquarters.

CREAMERY HAS HAD GOOD YEAR.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Jacksonville Creamery company was held last night and a meeting of the directors followed. Three directors were chosen to succeed themselves: E. E. McPhail, C. E. York and H. K. Snyder. At the meeting of the directors the following officers were re-elected:

President—Dr. J. R. Harker.
Vice President—E. E. McPhail.
Secretary-treasurer—E. E. Crabtree.
General Manager—L. T. Potter.
The report presented by Mr. Potter showed the business of the year to have totaled something more than $100,000 and that the amount of butter manufactured was several thousand pounds greater than for 1917. The year has been a very satisfactory one and the usual dividend of 6 per cent was declared and a satisfactory amount transferred to the surplus fund.

Mrs. Charles W. Brown has returned from a visit of a week with her sister, Mrs. Bradish in Springfield, and is now occupying her suite at Colonial Inn.

The January number shows more than 100 pages and is very profusely illustrated by halftones and photographs. The publication has special interest for Jacksonville people from the fact that Arthur L. Kingsley is the business and advertising manager. Mr. Kingsley has been in the navy for about a year and evidently his newspaper experience has resulted in his gaining his present very responsible position.

HOW TO SAVE ON SHOES

"Out of curiosity I tried a pair of Neolin Soles," writes W. P. Macartney of St. Louis, "and today, after five months of hard service I fail to notice any real signs of wear on them." This statement points the way to real economy in shoes. What your shoes cost, by the year, depends largely on how the soles wear and Neolin Soles do wear a very long time. Moreover, they are exceedingly comfortable and waterproof—scientifically made to be exactly what soles should be and so worn now by millions.

They are available everywhere on new shoes and for re-soles. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

AND HONORS TO THEIR HEROIC DEAD

ization can excel the record. As we view the blue stars that are turned to gold, there comes a new feeling of honor, a keener appreciation of the bravery and sacrifice of our fellows. Tonight have special words of sympathy for the sorrowing families, one knows what the care of a dead means but a mother. To pass all this period of care and mourning and then see a son cut just as he enters man's estate, is in such a severe blow. After all, death is the common end, and it does not matter much whether the race is run in the age of twenty, thirty or forty. The important question is not how long we live but how well. Our friends accomplished their ideals early in life and possibly it will never be given to some of us to nearly approach our goals.

These our brothers have gone to their memories will be cherished. It will be fitting to inscribe their names upon the field of white on the banner and below the names to write the word "Martyrs." Such they were, for they died that we might live.

The closing address was made by Rev. Father Formaz, who said:

A Solemn Hour.

I do not rise at this time to waste the light in idle words. The occasion is too sacred, too solemn, too tremendous to indulge in the vain rhetoric of empty glorification and idle boasts.

Let those who have known the facts of life, who have never vibrated with the deep conviction of vital truths, to whom freedom has been an abstraction, and humanity but an idle word—let these content themselves in the hour of triumph with high sounding phrases and meaningless verbiage. But there is a palpable pride in honest achievement which may not be passed in silence.

One hundred and thirty five men of the Jacksonville Knights of Columbus Council, who answered the call of freedom, out of a membership of two hundred and fifty, give evidence of their spirit. Six of the stars in their service flag are tinged with crimson life, blood of honest American hearts. Who would question the loyalty? Men have died for an idea, for an abstraction. The man who dies for his country dies that others may have life and have it abundantly. This it was that spurred the heroes of the Revolution to mighty efforts. This it was that spurred the patriots to strike in defense of justice, truth and decency, pro Deo et Patria.

The warriors of Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar and Napoleon were the millions of might and their conquests meant the triumph of might over right. The spread of despotism and the enslavement of men was their object. This was a war of freedom—a mighty effort that government of the people, by the people and for the people might be established for the earth. Men have lived for sublime ideas—men have lived for the propagation of great truths. But one hundred and thirty five men went forth from this Council, not to live for freedom, but to die for it. This is sublime, this is Godlike, for echoing from the distant past come the words: Greater love than this no man hath shown, that he lay down his life for his friend. For his friend—yes, but for his country—for the Country that took him as an infant and nurtured him—for the Country that led him by the hand into the fertile fields of opportunity, and guaranteed him the enjoyment of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Who shall say that this is not the fulfillment of the supernatural precepts of Christ?

Patriotism Part of Religion.

For with the Catholic man, the word, patriotism, is no vain meaningless word. It is part and parcel of his religion. The coward that shrinks from duty on the field of battle is stigmatized, not only as wanting in duty to his Country, but to his God. This idea is well expressed in the words: "Pro Deo et Patria." For he who is a true son of God is likewise a true son of his country. It could not be otherwise. Similarly so, the man who conscientiously follows the true voice of the people is at the same time following the true voice of God. The pages of history are illuminated with such names as Charlemagne, St. Bernard and Joan of Arc whose very souls throbbled with the love of God and country. And today what greater example of absolute sacrifice and devotion to his Creator and his country can the world produce than that of our own General Foch, who has been fittingly called the "Gray Man of Christ." On his knees, before the altar in the Cathedral of Chalons, Marshal Foch petitioned the Sacred Heart, in consecrating to him the armies of which he had charge, for a prompt and definite victory and a peace glorious for France. We know his answer. All the men who have come thru the ordeal with stateliness glory are men of fervent faith. Pains, the long past the age when he could withstand the rigors of the field, held up the feeble Lorraine; Castelnau, the noble soldier who put his faith before preference, stopped the Germans at the Rivers. Examples of this kind are innumerable. Of this kind are the furthest battles and the countless hospital beds of France, what flame leaps to your eyes when you say "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." How these words must fill your soul with a passion of love, and a holy zeal! For you, the Knights of Columbus, can truly say "My Country, 'Tis of Thee. You could have chosen no better name than that of Christopher Columbus, the patriot and the Christian. When you were called upon to defy the forces which were threatening patriotism and religion itself, you were not found wanting. No hesitancy nor cowardice marred your entrance into this magnificent struggle.

Proud of Sacrifice.

Before, a soldier of Uncle Sam stepped upon the soil of France and unfurled America's battle flag, you felt within your hearts the need for the safety and freedom of our Country. We are proud of the boys who have made the supreme sacrifice. Their blood, spilled on that shell-torn ground, was a cry for victory. From every hospital where one of our boys lay, gassed or wounded; from every cage in Germany that held a brave American in cruel confinement; from every trench and camp, in France and Italy, in Belgium, in Russia, came the cry of an American boy for righteous victory. Into every one of your homes, where the blue star in your service flag has turned to gold, there must have come a feeling of noble pride, and a sense of duty well done. They have fought this good fight and won.

These young men have not died in vain. They going in this great cause has truly made the world a better abode for mankind. Picture the spirit of self-sacrifice that prompted a mother to remark: "I shall be proud to see my four sons come back from France, but I shall be prouder still if they never return." Is not this a veritable instance of the noble souls created by this World-War?

God is on the side of the common people; they heard the Massingray. Certain dark forces have ever tried to control the world for centuries.

The recent great war was to put down the German despot and the real war for control is not yet over. The attitude of the church to the problems of reconstruction is vital. Prices of necessities of life are too high and this began before the war. There is too much concentration of wealth in the hands of a few. It has been estimated that two per cent of the population of the land own sixty per cent of its wealth. The question of taxation must have attention. We have been too much taught to look on religion as a personal matter only. A man has been bidden embrace it that his soul may be saved. This is just and right but it is only half the truth. A man needs not only salvation for himself but must seek it ardently for others.

The great problems that loom ahead of us in the reconstruction period must be set clearly into relation with the gospel of God, or else the organized institutions of religion will suffer still further loss of popular influence and support. Less than half the inhabitants of the United States go to church; and the older church doctrines and methods are steadily losing their hold over the people. While this may be in part the fault of the non-churchgoers themselves, it may also be in some degree the fault of the churches.

Religion of the Bible.

"The religion of the Bible was established among men thru a great struggle for social and economic justice. The great warfare on behalf of Jehovah against Baal and other gods was a fight of the common people against wealth, grafting aristocrats. In this fight, the Hebrew prophets were the leaders; and they denounced the laws under which the ownership of the soil concentrated in the hands of the few. Baal stood for slavery and land monopoly and the oppression of the plain people by a tyrannical upper class. This is the meaning of the word Baal in the Hebrew language. But the religion of Jehovah stood over Baal and the false gods was the first great triumph of the common people in the history of the world.

"God is on the side of the common people. The great forces of the universe are on the side of right against autocracy and injustice. The institution of monarchy was opposed by the prophet Samuel.

"All the great prophets of God in the Bible were against the kings. And the plain people among the Jews heard Jesus gladly because he was on their side against graft and injustice; while for the same reason the wealthy and respectable church leaders plotted His death. And yet, when the religion of the One, True God began to spread abroad in the world, all that part of it which related to the social and the earthly, as contrasted with the individual and the heavenly, was somehow left out.

Must Make Great Truth Plain.

Unless the church put emphasis upon the great question of wealth, poverty, and injustice that stand foremost in the preaching of the Hebrew prophets and Jesus unless the churches help to make plain the great truth that God is on the side of the oppressed classes; the world will continue to turn away from organized religion.

In 1881 25 per cent of the farmers were renters; today they are fifty per cent. Land, so high men are not able to buy it. That problem was solved by the Hebrews. Concentration of wealth; affluence and luxury ruined Rome; God wants justice to all in all things.

Some time was given to questions and some of these were: Is there not danger that we over emphasize the social side of religion? Yes; we must be careful to seek the golden mean.

How are we to manage when the shrewd get ahead of the masses? Our laws were made by people from the old country and possibly lean too much to the feudal times and ways. The Kaiser's men were murderers and embezzlers. Hohenzollern means high taxes.

How will the church avoid espousing socialism, single tax and other doctrines? The church must not accept or any economical doctrine or propaganda but must emphasize the fact that God is not for any class. The church must not stand for any concrete, socialistic or any other doctrine but for justice.

Will the working classes and unions accept the church unless it agrees to their terms? The church must not accept or adopt any specific doctrine or class

PROF. LOUIS WALLIS IN FIRST FORUM NUMBER

Interested Audience Heard First Speaker in Congregational Church Forum Sunday Evening. Attitude of Church in Reconstruction Period Theme.

The first number of the Congregational church forum was a very gratifying success, a good audience in perfect accord with the speaker listened to a fine address by Prof. Louis Wallis, formerly of the Ohio state university faculty and now a lecturer for the Joseph Fels commission. His theme was the "Attitude of the Church to the Problem of Reconstruction."

He said the great desire of all good people was that the world be made safe for democracy, not in a partisan sense at all for he understood that the major part of the people of the church in which he spoke were Republicans, but that the rights of the people, the welfare of the masses might be properly conserved. Some of the points he made were:

The Coming People.

God is on the side of the common people; they heard the Massingray. Certain dark forces have ever tried to control the world for centuries.

The recent great war was to put down the German despot and the real war for control is not yet over. The attitude of the church to the problems of reconstruction is vital. It has been estimated that two per cent of the population of the land own sixty per cent of its wealth. The question of taxation must have attention. We have been too much taught to look on religion as a personal matter only. A man has been bidden embrace it that his soul may be saved. This is just and right but it is only half the truth. A man needs not only salvation for himself but must seek it ardently for others.

The great problems that loom ahead of us in the reconstruction period must be set clearly into relation with the gospel of God, or else the organized institutions of religion will suffer still further loss of popular influence and support. Less than half the inhabitants of the United States go to church; and the older church doctrines and methods are steadily losing their hold over the people. While this may be in part the fault of the non-churchgoers themselves, it may also be in some degree the fault of the churches.

Religion of the Bible.

"The religion of the Bible was established among men thru a great struggle for social and economic justice. The great warfare on behalf of Jehovah against Baal and other gods was a fight of the common people against wealth, grafting aristocrats. In this fight, the Hebrew prophets were the leaders; and they denounced the laws under which the ownership of the soil concentrated in the hands of the few. Baal stood for slavery and land monopoly and the oppression of the plain people by a tyrannical upper class. This is the meaning of the word Baal in the Hebrew language. But the religion of Jehovah stood over Baal and the false gods was the first great triumph of the common people in the history of the world.

"God is on the side of the common people. The great forces of the universe are on the side of right against autocracy and injustice. The institution of monarchy was opposed by the prophet Samuel.

"All the great prophets of God in the Bible were against the kings. And the plain people among the Jews heard Jesus gladly because he was on their side against graft and injustice; while for the same reason the wealthy and respectable church leaders plotted His death. And yet, when the religion of the One, True God began to spread abroad in the world, all that part of it which related to the social and the earthly, as contrasted with the individual and the heavenly, was somehow left out.

Must Make Great Truth Plain.

Unless the church put emphasis upon the great question of wealth, poverty, and injustice that stand foremost in the preaching of the Hebrew prophets and Jesus unless the churches help to make plain the great truth that God is on the side of the oppressed classes; the world will continue to turn away from organized religion.

In 1881 25 per cent of the farmers were renters; today they are fifty per cent. Land, so high men are not able to buy it. That problem was solved by the Hebrews. Concentration of wealth; affluence and luxury ruined Rome; God wants justice to all in all things.

Some time was given to questions and some of these were: Is there not danger that we over emphasize the social side of religion? Yes; we must be careful to seek the golden mean.

How are we to manage when the shrewd get ahead of the masses? Our laws were made by people from the old country and possibly lean too much to the feudal times and ways. The Kaiser's men were murderers and embezzlers. Hohenzollern means high taxes.

How will the church avoid espousing socialism, single tax and other doctrines? The church must not accept or any economical doctrine or propaganda but must emphasize the fact that God is not for any class. The church must not stand for any concrete, socialistic or any other doctrine but for justice.

Will the working classes and unions accept the church unless it agrees to their terms? The church must not accept or adopt any specific doctrine or class

FRENCH SACRIFICE FOR LIBERTY HEROIC

Six millions of French sons have offered their lives that democracy might live. 30 million other French men and women sacrificed their all for the same purpose. America's debt of gratitude to France for this is very great. We also are indebted to her for an invaluable remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments discovered by her peasants, which it is reported has saved many American lives and prevented thousands of surgical operations. Geo. H. Mayr, for many years a prominent Chicago chemist, imports the ingredients and sells this remedy under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. RAILWAY AND LIGHT CO. COUNCIL THEME

Members of City Council Discussed Local Utility—Will Call Public Hearings for East and West College Avenue and East State Street.

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday morning the Jacksonville Railway and Light Company was the main theme for discussion. The discussion started when Commissioner Martin said complaint had been made of the sidewalk adjacent to the light plant in South Main street.

After the discussion started Commissioner White took the floor and gave his opinion of the action of the utility company toward the city in the matter of opening streets and other things. All of the members coincided with the views expressed by Mr. White but all were agreed that so long as the state utility commission was in existence there was no remedy.

Aside from this discussion the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for uncompleted sidewalks for which ordinances had been passed. Commissioner Vasconcellos reported that the rocker arm for the engine in the light plant had arrived Monday morning and would immediately be placed.

The Proceedings.

The session opened with all members present Mayor Rodgers presiding R. L. Pyatt clerk. The roll was called and the minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

Under the head of departments Commissioner Vasconcellos reported that the rocker arm for the Russell engine had arrived Monday morning and would immediately be placed.

The commissioner also reported that he had had considerable trouble with hydrants that had been used by J. E. Bretz, the paving contractor the past year. He also said that he would like to get the water bill with Mr. Bretz settled.

Commissioner White reported for the streets and public improvements department that he was engaged in building a cinder road to Jacksonville cemetery. The commissioner said that it was difficult to get to the cemetery with motors and that the road built now would make it possible to use the motor funeral livery when the roads break up in the spring.

Unpaved Streets Bad.
Mr. White also called attention to the condition of many of the unpaved streets which he said were in bad shape and crossings were needed.

In connection with the crossing question Mr. White said it seemed strange that the city would compel property owners to build concrete walks and not put in good crossings to join them up.

Mayor Rodgers said that the city was not able to put in the crossings but that the citizens were able to put in the walks.

The commissioner also said that some property owned by railroads had bad walks in front of it. This was especially true in Illinois avenue where walks were badly needed as most of the people who went to Jacksonville cemetery took that route.

Mayor Rodgers suggested that the clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for the walks.

Commissioner Widmayer asked if it would do any good. He was of the opinion that in the city's present financial condition that few contractors would want to bid on walks.

Martin Starts Fireworks.

At this point Commissioner Martin started the oratorical fireworks when he called attention to a complaint that had been made of the condition of the sidewalk adjacent to the plant of the Railway and Light Company. Mr. Martin said that the exhaust pipe which was located close to the smoke stack deposited a mixture of oil and water on the walk making it almost impossible for a woman to pass without ruining her dress. He thought something should be done in the matter.

Commissioner Vasconcellos moved that the matter be referred to Commissioner White to instruct the Railway and Light Company to abate the nuisance. There was no second to the motion. The commissioner then made a motion that the city council send a notice to the company to abate the nuisance.

Commissioner White said that the Railway and Light Company had gotten lots of concessions from the city the past three years. He said that the company's employees had torn up streets without permits and had paid but little attention to orders not to do so.

"They promised to fix East State street east of the railroad when the railway tracks were taken up," said the commissioner "but so far nothing has been done."

"I have found out since I have been member of the council that Mr. Gray is the best promiser in the world but that he never keeps any of his promises. If he never does anything else for the Illinois Traction company as long as he lives he should be able to draw his salary for the things he has put over here since taking the management of the local company."

The company was discussed pro and con, mostly pro. Mayor Rodgers said that so long as the state utility commission was in existence with its present power that the city was helpless.

Finally Commissioner Martin seconded Commissioner Vasconcellos' motion that the notice of sent to the company and it carried by a unanimous vote.

Appointed Library Trustees

Mayor Rodgers announced the appointment of Mrs. O. F. Buffe, Mrs. William Floreth and Miss Frances Wakely as members of the library board to succeed themselves. The appointments were confirmed.

The city clerk was instructed to ask for bids to construct uncompleted sidewalks.

The engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for paying East State street from the railroad to the city limits and College avenue from Hardin avenue west to the city limits and to call a public hearing for the same.

Mayor Rodgers reported that it was hoped to have a deed to the land owned by the state on which it is proposed to build the dam. The mayor thought that the bill would be passed about the middle of February.

There being no further business the council adjourned.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Immediate?—Yes! Certainly! That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forcing stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Danderine. Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents.—Adv.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM AT SUNDAY SERVICE

WAR MOTHERS' MEETING LARGELY ATTENDED.

Prominent Citizens Made Brief Addresses and Music Added to Patriotic Interest of Occasion—Nucleus Formed for All County Soldier Record.

Great patriotic interest attached to the meeting held under auspices of the War Mothers of America Association, at State Street church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Brief addresses were made by speakers of known ability and the program also included several musical numbers, excellently given. A start was made in securing written records of all Morgan County men in the army. The service opened with the singing of America by the audience. Dr. C. H. Rammekamp presided and in the course of his introductory remarks said: "Among the great organizations which the war has produced is this one, known as the War Mothers of America. It was chartered by special act of the U. S. congress and we as citizens of Morgan county can take just pride in the fact that one of the very earliest chapters of the organization was the one formed here."

Four Fold Purpose. "I am interested in the objects of the War Mothers of America organization, as stated in the constitution. There are four general purposes, viz: first, to extend helpful comfort and sympathy to the families of the men in the army service, second to promote and encourage various war work activities; third, to foster ideals of American citizenship and to aid in securing for all mankind the blessings of liberty and justice; fourth to encourage historical research as to the participation of the U. S. in the world war and to gather and preserve the records of those who had an active part in the prosecution of the war. The collecting and preserving of records of all Morgan County men who have taken part in the war is of great importance and it can be accomplished now with far less difficulty than later. And if in later years there is a movement to erect a monument in their honor, it will be possible to get the names of the men and the details as to their services."

Dr. Rammekamp then introduced Mayor H. J. Rodgers as a representative of the city. He said in part: "We owe a great debt to the boys who took part in the great conflict. For the blessings which we now enjoy and for all that we have from now on in a commercial and material way, we must forever more give credit to the boys who fought humanity's battles. They glory is to the ones who fell in battle, but the opportunity is to the young men who are left. The task before us is in many ways greater than the one which confronted us in the prosecution of the war. We do not yet realize what that task really is. These young men who are returning from army service are disorganized as to living and working conditions. We must provide them with employment. They must not be left in idleness. We must teach them, and they must realize that they will soon be in control of the business and political affairs of the nation."

Looking Backward. Judge Paul Samuell was then heard on behalf of Morgan county. Only a few paragraphs of his excellent address are given. "This meeting to me has unusual significance, and this afternoon it seems to me appropriate to pause in retrospection. The boy returning from the army asks no special favors. He plunges into the whirlpool of struggle and competition and gets right down to fight for success. To him his service in the past is a mere incident—one that affects him no more now than the time he was admitted from the grad school to the high school. He does not apparently even appreciate the fact that the curtain has fallen on the most spectacular tragedy the world has ever known, and that he has played an important part therein. Great credit is due to the statesmen and military leaders who have guided our destiny thru these days, but to me the crowned heads of Europe and the dignitaries of our own country deserve not one-thousandth part of the glory which is due to the mother who has given her boy, to sacrifice his life if necessary, that liberty might be yours and mine. "Mothers, why shouldn't you organize? Why shouldn't you ask that the memory of the husbands, sons and brothers who have laid down their lives on the altar of freedom, shall be kept in hallowed reverence for all time? Morgan county welcomes you War Mothers of America, and wishes you Godspeed."

The company was then favored with two songs by Mrs. William Barr Brown, Jr., "Mother of Mine," and "Our God, Our Country, and Our Flag." Mrs. Brown sang with her usual artistry. In introducing Dr. Josephine Milligan as the next speaker Dr. Rammekamp said: "I am sure there are few people who have gone from our midst who deserve as great credit as Dr. Milligan, both for the service rendered in the home community and in the larger field. The naming of the Josephine Milligan school in her honor is but a small testimonial of the high regard in which she is held here."

But a brief outline of Dr. Milligan's story of her experience abroad is given: "I am embarrassed when I find you think I have done so very little, and was never in the slightest danger. When I was asked to talk to the War Mothers of America I wondered if possibly the thing that you would be most interested in would be how the boys are looked after when they are ill. The small French city in which I spent most of my time was not on the direct line for the trains which bore the wounded from the front line hospitals back to the base hospitals, but it was on a branch, so that now and then a trainload of wounded men would be taken thru our little city of Chateaudun."

"We looked forward with the greatest dread and yet eagerness to see the boys in the first trainload of wounded. As the train pulled in we had our first surprise, for the men had their heads thrust out of windows and were a joyous, noisy, crowd whereas we had expected to see a great deal of depression."

"One of the things the boys always wanted was water. The French people never could get over being surprised at the American boys preferring ordinary water to wine. Chateaudun, a city of only 7,000, had a water supply which was filtered and absolutely pure—something which we have not yet in Jacksonville. About 15 years ago in Chateaudun there was a terrible epidemic of typhoid—no worse than we had here eight or ten years ago—but the French people acted after their epidemic and to such purpose that they had had for 15 years this excellent water supply."

The next train of wounded we saw was one of our own American trains. It was a wonderful train, just like a miniature hospital, carrying all the necessary apparatus that might be necessary for wounded soldiers. "I think the mothers have every reason to feel that their sons have been a credit to them in every way possible, and there is nothing that this society can do for the boys that is too good, for them. But what they especially need when they arrive home is to be furnished the right kind of work. Some effort must be made to see that each individual in this great army, which is going to be the backbone of the nation, is given an opportunity to carry on the work for which he is best fitted."

Robert Shoemaker was then heard in a solo finely given. "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining."

American Mothers. Horace H. Bancroft, the last speaker on the program, in the course of his remarks said: "No language can express the beauty and heroism of a mother's love and I am aware of the inadequacy of any words of mine on an occasion like this. But of this one thing I am certain—that from the moment when Mary Draper, wife of Capt. Draper of Revolutionary fame, strapped the knapsack on the back of her 16 year old and only son, and bade him follow his father—that from that moment down to the present time the American mother has not been lacking in patriotism or in loyal service. War Mothers of America! What a wealth of meaning in those four words! What an opportunity in an organization like this for service of a far-reaching kind. "The Morgan county chapter called this meeting in order that something definite may be done in collecting the records of the boys who have gone out and given heroic and splendid service. Those records can be gathered now, but the time will come when they will be difficult to secure. There is a vast social service this organization can doubtless perform. Its chapters will be scattered all over every state in the union, and who shall attempt to estimate the power these war mothers may have in the regeneration of society and making this world a fit place."

FARM RESIDENCE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Home of Frank Dinwiddie of Litchberry Precinct Burned Monday.

Yesterday morning about nine o'clock the house of Frank Dinwiddie residing a few miles from Litchberry was found to be on fire. Mr. Dinwiddie was not in the house at the time but soon arrived there and succeeded in saving a little of the contents of the lower story and that was all. The house was not old having been built in 1915 and recently supplied with Delco electric lights, a new furnace and various improvements and additions. It contained seven rooms and was partly two stories. It is supposed the fire caught somehow from the furnace. The building was worth about $3,000. The value of the contents and amount of insurance are not known.

Mr. Dinwiddie has been peculiarly unfortunate. A little daughter was recently drowned and his wife is in delicate health. The family found shelter and welcome in the home of Mr. Dinwiddie's father, Samuel Dinwiddie and the house will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

PROF. WALLIS AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

At Illinois College yesterday morning Prof. Wallis spoke on the French revolution and it would be a pleasure to reproduce the fine effort if space permitted. The gentleman's remarks reminded the writer of an emphatic statement by the late President Sturtevant.

"The British kings and aristocracy granted the desires of the people and exist today; the French resisted the people and lost their heads. Originally France was called Gaul as all students of Caesar's commentaries can testify and the Gallic race forms the principal part of the people of France today. Sometime after Caesar's wars Gaul was invaded by Germans who were called Franks. They captured the country reduced the people to slavery and fastened their name on the people and country and so the royalty and aristocracy which crushed the common people was of German origin. They lived in the greatest luxury; paid no taxes and took 80 per cent of the people's income for their selfish purposes calling all land theirs and the people tenants. When it became so intolerable that it could no longer be borne the French revolution followed."

ABOUT THE ROADS

Good roads form a subject quite popular at present and word regarding the subject may not be amiss. A good many miles of the public roads in the county are in excellent condition. Some are even dusty, and again there will be stretches which would be so immensely improved by a little dragging. A while back a sufferer living in the south part of the county asked the Journal to call the attention of the supervisor of the highway just south of the Masters place and Maple Grove school house. The gentleman at once acted and dragged the road and now the same request is politely repeated to him and several others in various parts of the county where a little dragging is so much needed.

The Grand Lodge, A. F. and A. M., will hold a state school of instruction Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 21, 22 and 23, in the Masonic Temple, Jacksonville. Morning sessions open at 9 o'clock and there will be three sessions daily. All Masons are urged to attend every session. Jacksonville Lodge No. 570. Harmony Lodge No. 3.

HAS PETITION BLANKS.
City Clerk R. L. Pyatt now has the petition blanks for candidates who expect to run for office at the coming city election. The clerk has figured that on the basis of one half of one per cent the candidates for mayor, city clerk, treasurer and city attorney would have to get about forty names and the candidates in the various wards from ten to twenty names.
